

Zerotech International Pty Ltd ACCC Button Battery Compliance

PACKING INSTRUCTIONS

The ACCC has introduced new standards on the packaging requirements for products containing button batteries. Zerotech has responded by implementing new packaging and warning material at our factories, however, there are some mandatory compliance requirements that affect current inventory held by Zerotech and Australian retail stores.

Zerotech will be providing button battery warning stickers to your Account Manager for delivery to your store on their next visit. Two (2) stickers should be applied to each product containing a button battery. One of the stickers should be applied to the outside of the box at the front. The other sticker should be applied to the instruction manual. This sticker should be applied on the page demonstrating the reticle illumination feature and installation of the battery.
